DETAILED ACTIONClaim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 1 recites the limitation "with respect to said delivery device" in line 10, renders the claim indefinite. Appropriate correction is required.
3. Claim 9 recites the limitation "with respect to said delivery device" in line 20, renders the claim indefinite. Appropriate correction is required.
4. Claims 1 recites the limitation "said first and said second members" in lines 13-14. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. Appropriate correction is required.
5. Claims 9 recites the limitation "said first and said second members" in lines 22-23. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. Appropriate correction is required.
6. Claims 10-17 are rejected as depending on claim 9 and is similarly indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:
A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 1, 5-7, 9, 13-15, and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Allen et al (U.S. 6,113,611).
9. Referring to claim 1, Allen et al disclose a surgical fastener system (see Figs. 5A-5C) of individual surgical fasteners comprising: a drive mechanism having distal and proximal ends, drive mechanism comprising a needle 54 or moving member and a sleeve 51 or fixed opposing member, moving member having a sharpened distal end for piercing tissue; at least one surgical fastener 10, each of one surgical fasteners having a proximal end and a distal end; an actuator (head 60 and plunger 52) having at least two sequential positions, first position (see Fig. 5B) for moving said moving member distally and piercing tissue, and a second position (see Fig. 5C) for moving said moving member proximally, thereby deploying said distal end of said fastener.
10. Referring to claims 5-7, Allen et al disclose the fastener is made from super-elastic alloy of nickel titanium (see col 3, lines 58-60) and fastener can be made from any material so long as it is adequately elastic. Here it is noted that stainless steel is used in tissue fastener and it does have an elastic limit.
11. Referring to claim 9, Allen et al disclose a surgical fastener system (see Figs. 5A-5C) of individual surgical fasteners comprising: a drive mechanism having distal and proximal ends, drive mechanism comprising a needle 54 or moving member and a sleeve 51 or fixed opposing member, moving member having a sharpened distal end for piercing tissue; at least one surgical fastener 10, each of one surgical fasteners having a proximal end and a distal end; an actuator (head 60 and plunger 52) having at least two sequential positions, first position (see Fig. 5B) for moving said moving member distally and piercing tissue, and a second position (see Fig. 5C) for moving said moving member proximally, thereby deploying said distal end of said fastener; and a mechanism (stops 62 and 64) which prevents actuator from moving to said second position, after initially moving to first position, until actuator has fully moved to its first position, and from moving to said first position, after initially moving to said second position, until said actuator has fully moved to its second position (see Figs. 5B and 5C).

12. Referring to claims 13-15, Allen et al disclose the fastener is made from super-elastic alloy of nickel titanium (see col 3, lines 58-60) and fastener can be made from any material so long as it is adequately elastic. Here it is noted that stainless steel does have an elastic limit.
13. Referring to claim 17, it is rejected for the same reason as claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

14. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action
  - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Application/Control Number: 10/015,631
Art Unit: 3731

Page 5

15. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:
  1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
  2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
  3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
  4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
16. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Allen et al (U.S. 6,113,611) further in view of Wenstrom (U.S. 6,007,566).
17. Referring to claims 3, Allen et al discloses the inventions substantially as claimed except for the fasteners includes at least one barb extending axially away from said distal end, and one barb extending axially away from said second end.
18. Still referring to claim 3, Wenstrom discloses a fastener (see Figs. 1 and 2) includes at least one barb 32 extending axially away from said distal end, and one barb extending axially away from said second end 40.
19. Still referring to claim 3, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made by the applicant to use the fastener, as disclosed by Wenstrom, to incorporate into the device, as disclosed by Allen because this will provide more anchoring force per fastener.
20. Claims 2, 4, 8, and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Allen et al (U.S. 6,113,611) further in view of Wenstrom (U.S. 6,007,566) and further in view of McGarry et al (U.S. 4,509,518).

Application/Control Number: 10/015,631
Art Unit: 3731

21. Referring to claim 2, Allen et al discloses the inventions substantially as claimed except for the moving and fixed members have inner surfaces having a plurality projections spaced thereon, said projections engaging said fasteners; the barb engage inner surfaces of moving and fixed member
22. Still referring to claims 2, McGarry et al disclose a apparatus for applying surgical clips to tissue (see Figs. 2 and 12-14) includes a moving member 92 and fixed member 94 have inner surfaces having a plurality projections 102 and 104, respectively, spaced thereon, and projections engaging fasteners 36.
23. Still referring to claim 2, Wenstrom discloses a tissue fastener substantially as claimed.
24. Still referring to claim 2, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made by the applicant to use the fastener delivery device, as disclosed by McGarry et al, to incorporate into the device, as disclosed by Wenstrom, then to incorporate into the device, as disclosed by Allen because this will provide surgeon the ability to apply more anchoring devices to target site without reloading the applicator.
25. Claims 4, 8, and 16 are rejected for the same reason as claim 2.

Double Patenting

26. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude"

Application/Control Number: 10/015,631

granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees.

See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

27. Claims 1-17 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-3 and 4-6 of U.S. Patent No. 6,551,333. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other.
28. Claims 1-17 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-21 of U.S. Patent No. 6,447,524. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other.
29. Claims 1-17 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-14 of U.S. Patent No.
